

Ing. JOZEF HANUS, graduated from the Slovak University of Technology in Bratislava, Faculty of Chemical Technology in 1973. He gained a Ph.D. at the same University in Technology of Macromolecular Compounds in 1987. From 1974 until 2008, he worked at the Slovak National Archives as Head of Department of Archives Preservation. Since 2009 he is the Director of Archives Department, Ministry of Interior of the Slovak Republic. He is external lecturer at the Comenius University, Bratislava, Department of Archival Science and Auxiliary Historical Sciences. Member of several Professional International Bodies and Committees on Preservation, European Board of National Archivists, European Archives Group, IIAS Trieste – Maribor, participant in different EU projects.