

Dr. JEDERT VODOPIVEC TOMAŽIČ, obtained her BSc and MSc degree in Chemistry Science and PhD degree in Conservation Science at the University of Ljubljana. Since 1983 collaborating with the Pulp and Paper Institute of Ljubljana mainly on the research projects about durability and permanence of paper and on the production and use of permanent paper in Slovenia. From 1997 lecturer at the University of Ljubljana on book and paper heritage, from 1996 to 2006 full member of The Preservation Committee of the International Council on Archives (ICA/CPTA). From 2003 to 2006 coordinator for organic materials in the EU COST Action G8 - WG3 project “Degradation processes, corrosion and weathering” WG3 “Non-destructive Analysis and Testing of Museum Objects”. Author of national and international papers, organiser of conferences, seminars and workshops on conservation of cultural heritage on paper and parchment and collaborating in research projects dealing with conservation and permanence of paper.